

144,000: 58 – Breath of Life Regenerates

Breathe in the sky blue will of God. Cosmic oxygen or prana flows down into your cerebrum, descends to your throat, and slowly infills the two V's of the W at your lungs. Conscious and subconscious become united with the will of your superconscious or I Am Self.

See the two inverted V's of the W descend and merge into a single triangle. The downward pointing apex or point of this triangle enters into the red regenerative center at the base of your spine. This is the descent of the Holy Spirit into your regenerative or co-creative center, which completes your will contraction. Now you are poised to birth the will of your God Self. So be it.
