

15 – Put Up or Shut Up

On March 24, 2009, five days after my communion with Sol-O-Man, I dreamt that several other job seekers and I traveled to Russia to seek employment. We met with Prime Minister Vladimir Putin at the Kremlin because he was the “power behind the throne” who gave out all the good jobs. During our conference, he seemed totally comfortable in his preeminent position, and welcomed our “bowing” before him. President Dmitry Medvedev was nowhere in sight.

During his 2000-2008 reign as President, Mr. Putin oversaw a dramatic economic revival in Russia, due in large part to Russia’s increased production of oil and its worldwide elevated price. At the same time, however, he appeared to revert to past Russian repressive tactics in stamping out political dissent and consolidating his political power. Many of his friends and associates became incredibly rich during this time, and Mr. Putin himself was reputed, though not proven, to have reaped huge financial rewards. The living standards of all Russians increased, but nothing in comparison to the wealthy few. Mr. Putin, who had been a KGB agent before entering politics, placed numerous former KGB agents in powerful political and economic positions. Russia also bullied its neighboring countries, bickered with the USA and Western Europe, and planned to provide long range missiles to Iran.

In my meditation that morning, I pictured Vladimir Putin in front of me, hailed the Christ within him as my spiritual brother, and called upon him to clean his and Russia’s spleen. I amplified Sananda-Jesus’ message at Sacre-Coeur via Nada-Yolanda in 1975: “All errors of mortal man, all errors of controlled political regimes must come to sacrifice in their hearts every error of overt power and misuse of energy. . . . I invoke sincere repentance and a contrite heart, and mind which devotes itself to impersonal advantages and the general good of all equally.”

Later, I saw two codes in the name Putin, which applied to all European and other world leaders. First, he was to “put” his love “in” action. Second, he was to “put up or shut up.” These are the Latter Days or Day of Judgment, the purification period prior to the Second Coming. If Mr. Putin and others “put up” with selfishness, then in short order they will be “shut up” by their self-power and self-aggrandizement. In these End Days, the time has been speeded up for the elect’s sake, so that what we think, say and do comes back to us more quickly than ever before.

In her appearances at Fatima, Portugal in 1916-18, Sol-O-Man/Mary correctly predicted that Russia would turn to atheistic communism that would reign for about seven decades, during which Russia would try to eliminate Christ principles and to dominate Europe. Now Mary comes again and calls upon Russia to transmute the residue of these past wrongs and to be the example of love that is her destiny to be. Like Germany, those countries that have fallen the furthest have the greatest motivation and opportunity to rise to the highest new levels of love.

No longer in Western or Eastern Europe are leaders to rule the minds and hearts of their citizens with an iron fist that prevents love from circulating freely throughout the world’s throne of love. To all Europeans we say: Do not put up with or revert to past mistakes, but rather open your hearts, be loving livers and clean your spleens of selfishness; or you will suffer the horrendous consequences. Love God and Love One Another. So be it
