

Costa Rican Mission: 9 – Be The Christ You Are

At 3 AM on November 18 at El Silencio, MariLyn dreamt: “I was teaching on the first day of school. My students were 10 years old, about 4th grade. When we did some math one student complained. I told him that math was hard for me, too, but I had stayed with it and had learned my tables. There was a swimming pool at one end of the room and another teacher was bringing in the afternoon kindergarten class. It was an assessment tool to see if they were ready for school – if they could jump into the water, they were ready.”

Having been a grade school teacher before becoming a massage therapist, MariLyn has had numerous dreams with a school setting, symbolizing spiritual education. This time, she interpreted: “This represents my new schooling in higher powers. Some lessons may not be pleasant or easy to learn, but if I stay with it I can be a master of it. The teachers are those of the higher planes, who are assessing if I am ready to go forward and to advance my education. As for working with others, some that I work with in person and in my projections are ready and willing to move forward. However, others may need more encouragement to ‘do the math.’ 10-year-olds represent those dedicated to Sananda, whose number is 10. 4th grade is for the 4-step matrix.” Even with this initial interpretation, however, she said that she really did not “get” the full meaning of the dream.

2 hours later, she woke up hearing her signature song since, in addition to Unity, she had aligned herself with the I Am Nation/Healing Haven: “Here I am, Lord. It is I, Lord. I have heard you calling in the night. I will go, Lord, where you lead me. I will hold your people in my heart.”

In my morning meditation on November 19, still at El Silencio, Spirit took me in my light body up and through my crown chakra to high above Costa Rica, from where I saw a blanket, cloud or matrix of white light that covered it, the rest of Central America, and beyond. This portrayed the mantle of etheric Christ energy that had been anchored into the thought atmosphere of the whole region. Peering at it revealed some ridges, depressions and irregularities. My instructions were to smooth these out and align them with my light body hands, like doing an auric balancing for an individual; and thereby to facilitate harmony, integration and synthesis.

After completing this healing service, I morphed into a Y figure, with my arms reaching up to God-the-Good, seeking to do His-Her will. From above, a large ball of light descended into the open, receptive V at the top of the Y. By way of my spine as a pole of power and strength, the ball (my I Am Self/light body) slowly descended from my crown chakra to each of my lower chakras and corresponding physical organs and systems. It eventually traveled down though my legs and out my feet into the earth below me, such that I was completely surrounded by, and centered within, the ball of love and light that I Am, one with the One. Via the still small voice within me, I heard: Be your Self and go with the flow as a clear channel of divine healing power.

Here was the fulfillment of the many images/experiences of the circle/ball during the Costa Rica Mission: the stone ball of the former Native Americans, the sun cross, the sun cross rotating in step-by-step fashion, letting the round boulder off my shoulder, coming full circle, and finally being divine love in action. Thank You, Spirit, and all agents of Spirit, for this healing depiction and demonstration.

At lunch, MariLyn and I felt space beams on our heads. These were so evident and persistent that we simultaneously exclaimed that Phillel might be receiving another communication. Confirmation came late afternoon when he emailed a new message from Dr. Hannibal/St. Germain: "In recent days through our coordinated representatives on Earth, linked with multiple brigades of our interdimensional strike force of light, we have cleared the interdimensional portal. From our etheric grandstands, we have opened a secure pathway by which to pump new life force, the Christ transfusion, through the astral planes, the subconscious realm, into the very elements of material life and consciousness on the physical plane. . . .

"Continue to breathe the fire of light, the divine will of our Father-Mother God, into and through this dimensional portal we have secured. See the supreme life flow penetrating all sectors of this Western Hemisphere. . . . The light then spreads first to others of like mind, key centers and workers, and then to congregated souls who respond with similar receptivity, until the pulse of our hieronic energy injection reaches into every single doorway of consciousness. Thus the transmutation proceeds in regulated harmony, with balance and healing maintained."

All of this correlated with and added new light to my morning's meditation in which I had seen the blanket of Christ light over the area and had become a Y or clear portal for further infusion of healing energies in and through me. Moreover, Dr. Hannibal/St. Germain went on to explain this process by using the analogy of teaching kindergarten and elementary students. MariLyn had not shared her teaching dream with Phillel, so he knew nothing of it. Yet, it was as if she had gone directly to Dr. Hannibal/St. Germain and told him about it, and he now gave his cosmic interpretation of it via Phillel. Needless to say, she was "floored" by this, slain in the spirit.

Dr. Hannibal/St Germain explained: "We seek every which way to teach you in the simplest of terms and analogies you are equipped to understand as you grow from third dimensional into fourth dimensional, cosmic consciousness. Within the university complex of this solar system, let alone galaxy, you are as kindergarten students. This is said not to demean or demoralize anyone in any way at all, but simply to state the cosmic fact that you are growing and are being carefully educated to incorporate through your conscious, mortal selves a much vaster realization and application of your eternal I Am Selves in this plane of action.

“Yes, it is true, you who form the avant-garde of Christ servers throughout the Earth are further along in your application, for you have applied yourselves with due diligence and have done your assigned homework. But from the standpoint of your Christ consciousness, in many respects you are still in elementary school. That is fine, for we cannot allow you to progress too quickly beyond your fellow classmates on Earth, struggling in kindergarten as they are, else you would not maintain the proper connection with the majority in mass conscious, in order to lift them even to where you are now.

“So, please be content that you are learning the lessons of cosmic consciousness that best may serve the highest good of all on planet Earth. Again, this is divine will in action, through sacrificial love. . . .

“We are happy to serve as your teachers and guides, elder brothers and sisters, concerned entirely for your welfare as our students who are progressing steadily through the cosmic grades of life. Many of you also have been teachers and guides from these higher realms, and willingly have volunteered for your assignments on Earth in this time period. We all serve in each incarnation – here or elsewhere, upon physical or astral dimensions, throughout higher regions of etheria – where the Good Lord wills we best should serve the one body of Christ, the Son of God, the collective creation known far and wide, throughout the universes of creation, as the race of mankind.”

When MariLyn emailed her dream and response to Phillel, he in turn was deeply moved. For when he had begun to channel this part of the message, he had wondered why Dr. Hannibal/St. Germain had gone into this educational analogy -- he questioned if he was receiving correctly. Therefore, MariLyn’s dream served as verification for him, just as this message was astounding confirmation for her.

As yet one more instance of co-receiving, Dr. Hannibal/St Germain gave the following advice in his channeling via Phillel, which I likewise had received in my morning meditation: “To each one we say: be the Christ you are. In that beingness, you will help keep our interdimensional portal of light, so-called, open and unobstructed and flowing freely, not only throughout the Western regions under my etheric command, but also in the Eastern Hemisphere where so much dire turmoil must be transmuted simultaneously. . . . Proceed as you are so guided, for the Christ Selves form one band of light, with love in action at our eternal command.”

Visualization: Ask our Creator for His-Her will in your healing of humanity. Reach up to Him-Her with both arms such that your body becomes configured as a Y. As a clear channel, wait, watch, listen and receive a new image, idea or inspiration. See a sphere or ball of light descending upon and transfiguring over, around and through you, which travels down the portal or pathway of your spine to all of your chakras and organs. In time, this light sphere that is the wholeness and holiness of your I Am Self and light form fully encloses and anchors into your whole being. Be one with it in the One. Be peace, love, cooperation and coordination.
