

InVest: 7 – V to Y: Father Faith to Mother Strength

In the first month of January, we focused primarily on our power of faith as we began to invest in the I Am Nation or New Jerusalem. We envisioned this faith as royal blue light descending into our cerebrum via a large letter V, which crystallized as a blue sapphire.

Fortified with the masculine faith of our Father, we now move seamlessly in the second month of February into the feminine strength-stability-steadfastness of our Mother. Whereas faith correlates with and expresses via the cerebrum of our brain, its complementary partner of strength manifests by way of our spinal cord and nerves. We see our spine becoming a lemon yellow tower of strength that is a clear conduit for Christ.

Visualization: Picture a large letter Y that superimposes its higher light frequencies over your body. The upper part of the Y is the V that you visualized and worked with all last month. The apex of this V comes down to the center of your brain in the center of your head. Descending from the Y's apex is the lower part of the Y, which is a vertical line or pole that represents your spinal column of light that passes down through the core of you.

Via faith, affirm your perception and belief that Spirit is the One Source of all supply. Via strength-stability-steadfastness, communicate this truth via your spinal cord and nerves to every part of your mind, soul and body. From above, supply in all its forms now moves to below, such that you anchor it, invest it, and get ready to utilize it.

Think of the Y as representing a funnel. The upper cup of the funnel receives the outpouring and infilling of Spirit's abundance. Not too much and not too little is poured into the cup by Spirit and the agents of Spirit in the higher planes. Rather, it is just the right amount and of the right kind. For our God is a loving, all-knowing Being who gives us exactly what we need.

The stem of the Y is like unto the stem of the funnel, which is hollow. Imagine that the diameter of your stem or spinal cord is nice and wide, unblocked by any debris, and fully capable of receiving and transmitting what has been poured into the cup of the Y.

Be confident in this knowledge. Be still as the higher frequencies and spiritual supply pour down into and along your spinal conduit or channel. As the higher light or waters of life pour into and through your spine, let go and let God flow. This is not the time to try to put this energy into action with specific projects. First, you need to let the energy travel down your spine, out your nerves and into every part of your temple. Let your whole vessel fill up with God's powerful strength, and then wait for it to settle in, solidify and be absorbed.

In the process of receiving and transferring, you are receptive and passive and feminine in your functioning. You are an open and clear channel for the inflow and outflow of the Christ energies, frequencies, vibrations and knowledge.

From the blue sapphire in and around your brain, blue light radiates down to your spine, where it turns into the lemon yellow light of strength-stability-steadfastness. So be it.
