

ONENESS 102: 15 – Plant 2 Trees of Life

From now until February 21, plant 2 new trees of life, one in the West and the other in the East. This is our Arbor Day period for planting Abel, I Am or Christ/Buddhic consciousness on Earth.

Plant the first small tree in north central Minnesota, near the town of Brainerd and Lake Itasca, north of St. Paul, Minnesota's capital. Brainerd represents the cerebrum of the brain, the faith center into which I Am seeds are inserted. Itasca is from the Latin word "veritas" that means truth and "caput" that means head. Lake Itasca is the headwaters of the Mississippi River that symbolizes the spine, which flows from the brain to the base of the body.

The new tree of life comprises a new nation of reborn Abels, a new heaven on a new earth, a New Jerusalem, the I Am Nation. Such an I Am tree already has been planted by Spirit within us, taken root and grown via our spine. Now do this for the whole Western Hemisphere.

Rise up in consciousness from the base of your spine, through all the lower six chakras, surrounding your body and auric field in light as you go. Lift into your crown chakra and up through a tube of light above your physical head into the head of your light body. In this cosmic cerebrum, have the faith of your I Am Self. Perceive your oneness with Sananda-Jesus, Sol-O-Man-Mary, Hilarion/Charles Fillmore/Paul and angelic hosts.

Picture and propel yourself in your light body hovering high over north central Minnesota, one with light workers worldwide who have joined you for this project. With them plant a small, light-filled tree in this region. However, it does not grow vertically but rather horizontally. Its roots grow into Canada, all the way to Alaska. Its trunk grows southward along the Mississippi River. In time, its branches and green, leafy canopy reach the Gulf of Mexico. From there, it grows to Central and South America. Perceive it, strengthen it, and water it with love.

Shift your focus to the second planting in the Eastern Hemisphere. The site is the Himalaya Mountains. See yourself high above them, one with Sananda-Buddha, Sol-O-Man/Yasodhara, Kut Humi/ Babaji, other masters and angelic guardians.

With them, plant the second small tree atop the mountains. Its roots reach deep into the soil. Its trunk is in the center of and above the mountains. As it matures, its canopy of branches and green leaves spread out and cover an ever widening circle, eventually encasing the entire Eastern Hemisphere, feeding it with the twelve fruits of the tree of life.

Here is the strengthening of Oneness 102: 2 trees of life, 1 in the West growing horizontally, 1 in the East growing vertically, each complementing and balancing the other. So be it.
