

144,000: 61 – Marry a Muslim in Mecca

Surrounded in a cocoon of regenerative red light, see yourself in Mecca, the birthplace of Mohammad and the holiest city of Islam. Metaphysically, Mecca is the holy place in your heart where you love the will of God. You are in Mecca to marry a Muslim.

To marry means to link in love, to be as one heart. Where two or more are gathered in Mecca consciousness, there I Am.

The Muslim you are to merge with in the light understands the metaphysical meaning of marriage, for he or she is a Sufi. Sufism is the metaphysical branch of Islam, which interprets Islamic teachings in a symbolic, metaphysical way; just as you understand Jesus' mystical teachings as they were explained and taught by Charles Fillmore, co-founder of Unity; and by other metaphysical leaders and teachers.

Let the image of your beloved Sufi Muslim appear before you. If you are not one who sees visions, simply sense his or her presence in the light body. In the stillness, know without a doubt that he or she is right in front of you. Believe this. See this. Understand this. Know this. Be mystically married to a Muslim.

When you marry someone, in effect you also marry his or her family. Therefore, open your heart now to your spouse's family. They likewise are Sufis, who are awakened spiritually and have elected to follow cosmic, divine laws as taught in all religions by all true prophets. The immediate family of your mystical spouse is composed of 12 members who live in or near Mecca. So, be one with them in the light. Marry them, too!

Now focus on your spouse's extended family, which live throughout Saudi Arabia. They are of every tribe, ethnic group, age, profession and spiritual discipline, but all strive to do the will of Allah-God in loving one another. There are at least 987 of them. Marry them, too!

At your wedding feast with these total 1,000 light workers, Jesus and Mary and Mohammed show up and change water to wine. The water of each one's blood is turned into the red regenerative wine of I Am life flow, which circulates through all of these 1,000 elect.

In the joy of the wedding feast, these 1,000 elect automatically radiate blood-red light to everyone in Saudi Arabia, which awakens and regenerates them. Allah-God is great!
