

144,000: 13 – Europeans: Have Faith in God's Love

As described in Birth of the Light Body, love functions on the active, masculine polarity; whereas its complementary partner, wisdom-judgment-justice, expresses on the passive, feminine pole. As a working model, love has its primary focus in Europe, which is Western in its orientation, even though technically it is in the Eastern Hemisphere. Wisdom-judgment-justice has its throne in Africa.

Western Europe is like the liver on the body's right or conscious side; whereas Eastern Europe (including Russia, west of the Ural Mountains) is analogous to the spleen on the body's left or subconscious side. Rather than put their love into action, however, Western European nations repeatedly have fought each other, particularly in World Wars I & II. In Eastern Europe, rather than nurturing and protecting its neighbors, Russia dominated them until the downfall of communism in 1991. Moreover, Western and Eastern Europe have warred, initially in actual battles and then in the Cold War.

Europe's fratricidal fighting also spread to, and damaged, the whole world. Between the 17th and 20th centuries, European nations controlled at various times the Americas, most of Africa, Australasia and large portions of Asia. Europeans played a prominent role in the slave trade that took 7-12 million Africans to the New World. The Soviet Union spread the errors of communism to China, Southeast Asia and Africa, where many dictators and despots still rule.

Currently, Europe consists of about 50 states and 750 million citizens. Only 12,000 such souls need to be so transmuted with love that they lift all Europeans into spiritual love awareness. Already, we see many signs of this changing of water to wine through the miracle of love, perhaps none more evidential than the formation of the European Union in 1993, now composed of 27 nations. Russia and others, however, have not joined but rather have formed their own treaties, unions and pacts.

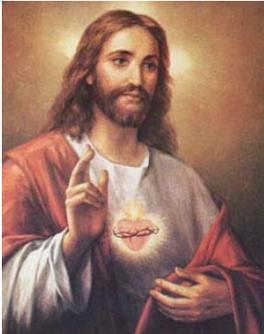

Despite the progress in Europe and all the good that Europeans have done in the past, numerous conflicts remain. In my dream of March 24, 2009, my spiritual teachers told me that the cause of this lingering mental, emotional, psychic and physical fighting is not trusting that God loves each individual and nation. This lack of faith in love is programmed into the love throne in the collective cerebrum of Europe. If Europeans had faith in God's love, they could not and would not treat any other person, group or country with anything less than love. They would follow the Golden Rule.

Visualization: Surround yourself in a cocoon of light. Rise into the love throne in your cerebrum. Affirm: I have abiding faith in God's love for me and for all creation; as He-She loves me, so do I love others; with faith and love, all things are possible.

Picture yourself in Paris, France, which is the hub or heart center for Western Europe. Go to Sacre-Couer, the Basilica of the Sacred Heart, at Montmartre, which is dedicated to the 1675-89 visions of Marguerite-Marie Alacoque, in which Jesus revealed his sacred heart to her. In your love-filled heart, merge with Sananda-Jesus' sacred heart. He is the prime example of positive love in action, of being a loving liver.

Together, radiate love to the 6,000 elect in Western Europe, who are of all nations, religions, political persuasions, occupations, ages, races and ethnic groups there; and whose combined love circulates through all of Western Europe and awakens each soul there. As you have faith in the transmuting power of God's love, so shall it be.

On June 13, 1975, at the Basilica of the Sacred Heart in the Montmartre section of Paris, France, Sananda-Jesus channeled the following message via Nada-Yolanda of Mark-Age: "No heart on Earth can be untouched from the radiations which stem from this center to all the world. All centers are connected to this; as the body of mortal man connects each part through the heart or the blood of sacrifice and sacred love. . . .

"Each man, woman and child who seeks the truth, the light of love and life shall know me and become blood in the veins of the Christed body of mankind; which is the same as to say, in the light form or the fourth dimensional form for the New Age, the new step in evolutionary grace. Only by love and through sacrifice can this become a reality. . . .

"All errors of mortal man, all errors of controlled political regimes must come to sacrifice in their hearts every error of overt power and misuse of energy. . . . I invoke sincere repentance and a contrite heart, and mind which devotes itself to impersonal advantages and the general good of all equally."
